Last Meeting

Last Week, Jan Derecho provided us with inspirational words of wisdom from none other than Victor Hugo and the inimitable Vince Lombardi. Jan is just an all around Renaissance woman, the week before she led us in song, now, this week; she is providing “life coaching”. Go Jan!! Wally Walker led us in the Welcome Song and that deep baritone (or was it bass) was wonderful and so much better than one expected. ‘Moi’ was pleasantly surprised and people actually sang like they meant it.

The raffle was won by Dr. Max Wilson and what a magnificent prize it was. He not only received 2 bottles of wine but also what looked like two Hawaiian style shirts as well. The prize was from financier extraordinaire, Jane McKenzie.

Our Detective for last week was Aleene

Althouse who, as they say down South, “took us to church”. She had us confessing “our sins one to another” and expiating them with fines. Of course, some people got carried away and began to share the sins of their friends rather than confess their own sins. Jim Zenner decided to reveal that Steve Karon drove away with the gas pump handle still in his car, John Burroughs admitted to doing about 110 miles per hour in his new Mercedes and Maurice Carrillo paid an extra fine of 65 dollars for turning 65 this month while not adhering (always) to the 65 mph speed limit. Aleene was the only one with the original excuse that she had a medical dispensation for speeding due to ‘leadfootitis’. Eric Easter and yours truly also had to admit that we traveled a little bit above the speed limit on occasion (rare occasions).

Well, if you ever wanted to know whether Wyatt Earp was a hero or a villain, good cop or bad cop, our speaker for the day, Casey Tefertiller, provided enough disparate points of view to keep you guessing. Our speaker was introduced by Michele Anderson as a modern day authority on the life and times of Wyatt Earp, his brothers and Doc Holiday. He did happen to throw in a few similes regarding some of the history of Santa Cruz. It appears that one of Santa Cruz’ former Police Chief’s was a “bad cop” that wound up in San Quentin after a long run in office and the ‘good cop’ was only able to stay in office about 18 months. It appears that our boy Wyatt, according to Mr. Tefertiller, primarily entered Law Enforcement for the money. Wyatt’s brothers, Virgil and Morgan, were also involved as a U.S. Marshall and Sheriff in Arizona. Appeals to Governor Fremont appeared to be denied based on politics and led to high crimes in the area. Final tally on whose truth to believe about the Earps and the infamous battle at the OK Corral left us right where we started. The debate seems to have begun about the “Real Wyatt Earp” in 1881, and for those interested, continues to this day.

President’s Corner

The longer you’re in Rotary the more you realize that you’ve got a lot more to learn about this organization. Rotary has so many great programs and does so many good things around the world that one can’t possibly know all that it does. One good way to learn about Rotary is to read your monthly “Rotarian” magazine. You can also get information from the International web site www.rotary.org, our district web site www.rotary5170.org and, of course, our own web site www.santacruzrotary.org. Take some time to learn about Rotary, you’ll be impressed by all the great things we do. -- Randy Krassow

Editorial Note: My apologies to Gary Reece, Angelo Canepa and David Heald for the misspelling of their names in last week’s Spokes. It was my first issue and I promise to do better.
