Emily Molfino

Working in Ethiopia with the African Services Committee

Emily Molfino is the granddaughter of our Club Past-President Dominick Saccullo and his wife Gertie. She is Central Coast native. In 2007, Emily graduated Cum Lade from San Diego State University with a BA in International Security and Conflict Resolution and Political Science with a minor in German. A year of her studies was spent studying International Affairs at the Universität Tübingen in Germany (her first venture in living abroad). She is currently mid-way through her two-year Masters study in International Affairs at The New School in New York City. It was through this program that enabled her to move to Ethiopia, work with African Services Committee and learn firsthand how African aid agencies operate. After graduation, she plans to continue her international work and education in a soon-to-be-decided Ph.D. program.

Announcements:

Labor Day Weekend Picnic hosted by Rotarians Tom Foster and Ian Mackenzie. Saturday August 30th from 2:00 pm to 7:00pm at the Forty Thieves Picnic Area, George Washington Grove @ Delaveaga Park. Hamburgers, Hotdogs provided. Please bring a side dish to be shared. RSVP via email: ian@mackenzies-chocolates.com or phone 345-5182. You, your family, friends, and prospective Rotarians are welcome.

Last Meeting

Steve Karon was delighted to do the invocation since he had not been asked to engage in this much coveted activity in three years. Of course, after his reference to fellow Rotarians Krassow, and Bargetto, we were told by President Krassow that those very comments were why he was only allowed to take the podium every three years.

Janene Adema once again led us in our Welcome Song with her usual energy and verve, with a great big smile and flashing dimples showing. Is this her real job or is she having a little problem delegating to the rest of you crooners. You are probably wondering when it will be your chance to strut your stuff so why don't you just volunteer.

The raffle was won by Tom Canfield, again!! He received a beautiful gold encircled serving dish from Linda Burroughs. And no, it didn't have Lighthouse Bank engraved upon it. The last time Tom won, just a couple of weeks ago, his dad was here with him and somebody mentioned that the fix was in, now this week he wins again but dad is not here. What's up with that?

Our Detective for last week was Tom

Foster. Since Sam Bishop allowed us to do a little "Happy News" last week, Tom seemed to take a page out of Sam's playbook and also allowed for some happy news. Erik Dybdahl is happy he can drive his truck to Rotary meetings while advertising his business. Tom was happy (?) that he had a colonoscopy on last Wednesday and couldn't practice law for two days. (Can you say 'TMI'?) And Jim Weisentein's was happy (ecstatic) that his new business was featured in the Sentinel Newspaper. Now you know that I thought that Tom and Sam were great admirers of 'moi', but I declare they both tried to fine me just because I carry out my editorial duties with great zeal. First, Steve Karon needs to pay my fine for giving me misinformation on Invocation duties and Sam Bishop should have given me hush mouth money up front and then I wouldn't have shared his revelations at Rotary. Oh, and Bob Rittenhouse is happy that his daughter is bringing him back currency from China but we are pretty sure it won't be 'yens'. Sorry Bob, but I don't think they trade 'yen's in China, try Japan.

Our speaker for the day was Laura Crum, author of the Gail McCarthy Horse Mystery Series. Laura is a fourth generation resident of Santa Cruz County and the daughter of our own Barclay Brown... Guess who was the proud papa catching lots of huzzahs from his fellow Rotarians, and of course, he never cracked a smile. It seems that one of their horses got loose on Pasatiempo golf course and Barclay had to pay a fine. Allegedly, he hasn't smiled since then. Laura has written about eleven books in her Gail McCarthy series, and she doesn't plan to change her focus or venue. All of her books are set in Santa Cruz County and are featured around horses. Laura's advice to prospective writers is to pursue your dreams and don't give up at the first, second or third rejection. Oh, and Laura also gave Jim William's daughter one of her horses. That horse
