Robert E. Wall - Aptos Chamber of Commerce

He is a Certified Subrogation Recovery Specialist by the National Association of Subrogation Professionals. He also handles subrogation claims throughout the Central Coast region of California. Mr. Wall is actively involved in many organizations and activities including the Lions Club, the Aptos Chamber of Commerce and Aptos History Museum (document and steering committee board member), and the Aptos Sports Foundation. He continues to study local history and was recently awarded the title of Certified Local Historian. He is a long-time supporter of youth sports. The presentation will include both some interesting facts and photos about Aptos, as well as an introduction to the Aptos History Museum. I plan to give your members a brief quiz entitled "How much do you know about Aptos?"

NEXT WEEK

LAST WEEKS MEETING

The turnout was thinner than usual following the very successful scholarship awards the previous week. Both President Steve, Secy. Ian, and President Elect Tom Foster were absent; probably, headed to New Orleans and the RI Convention. President Nominee, Janet conducted the meeting quite nimbly. Gerry Turgeon handled the sign in desk, Aleene Althouse provided the drawing concession; and, Jim Zenner was promoting the Santa Cruz Rotary Endowment Sustaining membership activity. Bruce Dunn offered the invocation. He made note of the pending “End of the World” to occur the next day, as a time to clean up our acts and “Get Ready”. Interesting thoughts that bare some consideration. Linda Burroughs attended the piano with flourish and skill and the clubs’ thanks. Jim Zenner’s effort to auction off a symphony ticket for the Endowment produced $200 from Donna Maurillo and our thanks. Carol Lezin served as the day’s detective. With quite a few visitors; our detective report is always amusing and interesting. Carol found some good stuff. She revealed that Sir John Burroughs was once named “Korn King” of his county in Illinois. Fred Cawlick measured his home for new custom window blinds and unknowingly used the wrong side of the tape measure; thus, all of the new windows were no good. No returns on custom window blinds. However Fred did get a new tape measure. Carol asked Bob Ciapponi to choose from three options about Joel Miller’s past and Bob picked the correct clue as champion amateur boxer. Fr. Joel a boxer??. Carol also got wind that Lane Lawson was quite the rue at Sac State. Lane organized the first toga party; and, once after an evening of college fun, he and his buddies flew down to LA from SFO for some in-flight, after hours, free., cocktails. Good ole College Try!! Dave McClure, while trying to teach others how to slide into a hot tub full of lovelies, instead tripped and fell in head first. Cool! Carol’s report showed a lot of research and some very funny events some of our members would just as soon forget. Program Director, Matt Shelton introduced John Van Every and his partner Cliff Hodges. They own a business called CrossFit Longevity. They help their customers to achieve physical fitness by a system of exercise that concentrates on body strength and body movement. Their goal is to improve the body’s entire muscle system. Not to be confused with body building as much as optimal fitness and healthful longevity. They punctuated their presentation with videos of their clients in action. During the talk; our own Gary Reece was asked to stand and demonstrate some of the skills he has been taught at the fitness center. Whereon, Gary, whipped off his clothes, revealing himself in gym togs ready for action. Reece was a good sport and an accomplished student of fitness. It was a very good program. Thanks Matt. The door prize was won by Angelo Canepa. A nice bottle of wine, and a generous gift certificate to “Clouds”. Thanks Aleene.
